Rockville Consortium for Science

The Rockville Consortium for Science, Inc. works toward increasing the understanding of science within the Rockville community. We support the establishment of a community science center, which will become a focus for the community's science education resource. It will be used to increase science literacy and encourage students to follow careers in science. We want to communicate the conviction that science is understandable, that our community prizes excellence in science and that exploring the frontiers of science is a profoundly satisfying experience.
